NEW

BOXES

We have contracted Tumu Timbers in Hastings to manufacture Beehive Boxes, EXCLUSIVELY for us, to ensure prompt supply from a convenient North Island location, additionally offering significant freight savings for North Island customers.

Customer feedback on the Quality and Finish has been nothing short of fantastic.

Currently available in Full Depth and Three Quarter Depth sizes, in grades: Premium, Standard and Budget.

Available in pallet lots only: 150 Full Depth per pallet and 200 Three Quarter Depth per pallet.

Orders and enquiries MUST be placed directly with EBS (not Tumu).

"AA" FRAMES

Our "AA" Frames are meticulously machined from incredibly strong and stable Russian Pine from a renewable resource.

Up to 20 years' growth across a 33mm End Bar!

They come Fully Assembled, complete with 304 Stainless Steel Wire, Eyelets in all wire holes, very strong Top & Bottom Bar Staples, and a Foundation Groove in both the Top and Bottom Bars – ready for you to embed the foundation of your choice. We recommend and supply 212mm FD and 157mm 3/4D Manuka Special Comb Foundation.

Available in:
Full Depth (4 wires),
Three Quarter Depth
(3 wires), 33mm and
35mm wide End Bars.

QUALITY EBS BEE SUITS

Our Deane/EBS Suits (kids suits included) are made in New Zealand from local & imported ingredients, they have YKK brass zips, added length & elastic to arms and legs, double fabric on knees, closed vents on the sides and a folding hood with high quality woven face mesh. The specially made overalls are made by Deanes in Christchurch to our exact specifications, with finishing touches & the attachment of the hood in our own factory. We could offer cheaper Chinese or other suits at about half the price, but we have chosen to support NZ made. It's worth remembering the old saying 'you get what you pay for'! We believe our suits are the best available, & they are made from the best materials obtainable. All parts, zips, hoods, etc are interchangeable & available if required.

THYMOVAR

Consider alternating your Autumn Bayvarol treatment with Thymovar in the Spring. Bio Gro Certified.

The Thymovar wafer contains the volatile oil thymol. Through volatilisation from the wafers, thymol vapour concentrations build up in the hive. These vapours are highly toxic to varroa mites but concentrations are not high enough to harm bees. This product shall only be used in beehives, but not used in hives where honey comb is to be collected.

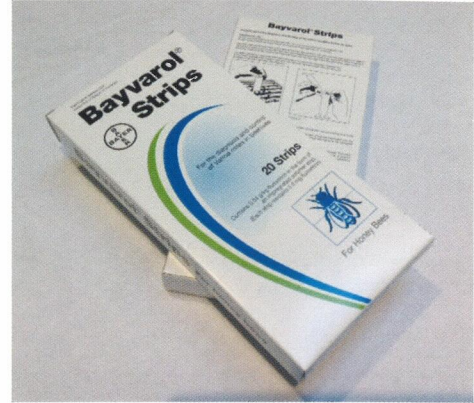

BAYVAROL

NZ's No.1 Varroa treatment.

Why?

- It is highly effective (up to 99% efficacy)
- It is the easiest to use (rigid strips-no curling)
- It's very safe to use (important-especially for staff)
- It has twice the contact area (4strips/brood chamber)
- Very kind to beeswax, propolis & comb honey
- Very gentle on queen bees & nucs
- It can be used during the honey flow if required
- Strips have a 5 year expiry date from date of manufacture

ECROYD PREMIUM LEATHER GLOVES

Vented & Non-vented

Honey Bee
Livestock
Improvement
Programme

Betta Bees Research Ltd

Betta Bees Research Limited manages New Zealand's premier Italian honeybee livestock improvement programme, with the goal of producing the best commercial Italian honeybee livestock. The company also supplies superior instrumentally inseminated breeder queens.

Background

Concerned about the deteriorating quality of their honeybee livestock, Betta Bees was formed in 2004 by fourteen Otago and Southland beekeepers who realised that collectively they would have better resources to establish and maintain a scientifically based, closed population honeybee-livestock improvement programme. The company now has 25 beekeeper shareholders spread throughout New Zealand.

The Breeding Programme

Each year the best 25 queens are selected as breeders, in accordance to strict selection criteria. From these breeders, 200 daughter queens are raised and instrumentally inseminated with pooled, homogenised semen from the drones of all 25 breeder queens.

These 200 daughter queens are then placed into evaluation hives for assessment for a year, after which the top 25 queens are selected as the next generation of breeder queens.

Selection Criteria

The following traits are measured and used to select the breeder queens:

- Honey production
- Brood viability
- Temperament
- Hygienic behaviour
- Absence of brood disease
- Over wintering ability
- Spring build up
- Varroa Sensitive Hygiene (VSH) has just been introduced with the arrival of varroa.

Further to this selection criteria, we use a recently developed molecular technique for screening sex alleles to ensure we do not lose any of these alleles from the population and thus avoid inbreeding.

Varroa Sensitive Hygiene (VSH)

With funding assistance from the Honey Industry Trust, Betta Bees has set up a 3 year VSH trial. In doing so, we acquired semen from 3 colonies that showed a high level of the VSH trait and used this semen to inseminate selected daughter queens from our breeding stock.

The best 25 of these were selected and are currently undergoing evaluation and selection with the view of using this stock to boost the VSH trait in our main breeding line and accelerating the development of this trait in the wider honeybee population.

Collaboration and Support

The company has a close working relationship with the University of Otago, specifically Associate Professor Peter Dearden, Director of Genetics Otago, Department of Biochemistry. Peter is an independent director of Betta Bees Research. Using the resources from Peter's lab we have been able to develop the molecular tools for tracking sex alleles. We are also investigating the development of further genetic tools to improve the effectiveness of the honeybee livestock improvement programme.

Funding

Betta Bees receives income from the sale of breeder queens and honey but the majority of our income comes from yearly research contributions from our dedicated shareholders. We are also very grateful for the assistance we have received for specific projects from funding bodies such as the New Zealand Honey Industry Trust Fund, TechNZ and the Sustainable Farming Fund.

Key Contacts

Frans Laas, Breeding Programme Manager

Frans has a Masters degree in wildlife management, is an accomplished commercial beekeeper and has extensive experience in agricultural research. He has developed his Instrumental Insemination skills to a high degree having undergone additional training with world experts in this very specialised field. His methodical evaluation process, precise genetic selection, and considerable Instrumental Insemination skills are key to the continued improvement of the Betta Bees line.
