

NEW ZEALAND HONEY. SALES SHOW INCREASE.

New Zealand honey is not showing the effects of the general slump. The agents (C. and E. Morton, Ltd.) report that last August they advanced the price of "Imperial Bee" honey, and sales were very much greater than in any one month since 1921 (states a London correspondent).

Four the four months, August-November of last year, sales have been 17 per cent. above the corresponding months of the previous year. In Germany, where New Zealand honey has a strong market, the financial situation renders it impossible to do much more than mark time, but in Holland good progress is being made.

SALE OF SAMPLES AT FAIR.

PROHIBITION RESCINDED.

(By Telegraph.—Press Association.)
INVERCARGILL, Wednesday.

The chairman of the Honey Export Control Board (Mr J. Rentoul) has received a cablegram from the London agent of the board, stating that the decision to prohibit the sale of sample jars of New Zealand honey at the British Industries Fair has been rescinded.
